TID irrigation season extended until October 31

TURLOCK - TID's irrigation season is now set to conclude on Sunday October 31. The last day to place a water order will be Thursday, October 28. This is 11 days longer than originally approved back in April. The district's 2010 surface water usage is approximately 28,723 acre-feet less than projected due to weather conditions and other factors. In addition, growers have been requesting the season be extended to irrigate their late crops.
