

POWERING OUR COMMUNITIES

As a trusted community partner, TID recognizes that we can accomplish more when we work together. In recognition of this, TID has established the “Powering Our Communities” Program. “Powering Our Communities” is a grant-type program available to non-profit organizations in the TID service area that aim to provide financial support for projects benefiting the community. TID is calling upon non-profit organizations to identify projects that meet the criteria outlined below. We look forward to partnering with you to make improvements that make our community an even better place to live, work and play.
